

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratified the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons has been adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak in favour of a medicine than commons of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proceeded as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases seemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly safe, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the digestion—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and can be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.

stinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, cacovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

dicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back

Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effective remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing their root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable, cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water, A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of nature weakness, or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The immediately yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

formed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of Fan-Sash Making.

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expense in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.
Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as in town.

yet specific virtues, and are infinitely superior to any thing yet discovered, for restoring weak and decayed constitustrengthening the stomach, increasing the appetite, and by the frequent use of them, they are a certain preventive against those complaints so common in the spring and fall seasons, such as intermittent fevers, and agues, long Autumnal fevers, dysenteries, &c. They are also of infinite service to those in the seafaring line, who make long voyages at sea, and are exposed to unhealthy climates; a preventive against contagious disorders—they are also a very pleasant bitter and are particularly recommended for the use of Taverns and Public houses, as well as private families.

Proposals

FOR Publishing by Subscription, and now ready for the press, a series of historical volumes, which when finished will assume the title of

Or, an historical view of Europe, Asia, Africa and America; from the earliest records to the nineteenth century—with a particular reference to the state of society, literature, religion, and form of government in the United States of America.

BY DAVID HANFAT, M. D.
"Life is so short and time so valuable, that it were happy for us if all great works were reduced to their quintessence."
Sir William Jones.

PROSPECTUS.

ASIA.
The Asiatic part of this work contains a general view of the antediluvians—of the general deluge—of the re-settlement of the Globe after that great event—of the primitive postdiluvian nations, which were formed in Asia, the cradle of the world. Their various ramifications, revolutions, and of the general course of Empire.

AFRICA.

The African part, contains a concise history of Egypt, Carthage, Numidia, Mauritania, Abyssinia, of the Piratical States, and the Hottentots, with a grouped view of its uncivilized settlements.

EUROPE.

The European part, contains the history of Greece and Rome, from their origin to their dissolution—of the various nations which were conquered by them—and of the nations by which the Romans themselves were finally conquered, and of the nations which were formed from the fragments of the Roman Empire, and the various revolutions of the latter, together with a view of the nations which never were subjected to the Romans.

AMERICA.

The American part, contains a general history of the Western continent, under the heads of Free, European, and Aboriginal or unconquered America. The first contains a history of the United States, from their first settlement as English Colonies, till the present time.—
The second, of all parts dependant on Europe.—And the third, of all that are still owned by the Aborigines.

It is expected that the whole will be comprised in 10 or 12 octavo volumes, of between four and five hundred pages each—to be printed in Philadelphia, on good paper and fair types, for $3 1-3 per volume, in sheep binding, or $4 1-3 Call Gilt, to be paid for on delivery.

AUTHORITIES.

This work has been in contemplation upwards of 40 years. The project of it was conceived in 1786, on reading the Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlemen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that voluminous work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an attentive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the Asiatic researches—of the works of Sir William Jones, and other learned Orientalists—the publications of intelligent travellers, who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the Globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries comparatively unknown, and on portions, both of ancient and modern history which were confused and obscure at the period when the writers of the Universal History published their work.—The arrangement of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1780, when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Henry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sentence of business and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison then in St. Augustine, and there confined for eleven months, without any peculiar employment. Steady progress has been made for the last ten years in correcting and transcribing the work for publication.

UNITED STATES.

The History of the United States is given at full length—that of foreign countries is more or less expended or contracted in proportion to the intrinsic importance of each—its tendency to illustrate portions of Holy Writ—the Greek and Latin Classics—and also in proportion to its connexion with the U. States, or as furnishing useful practical information to its citizens, or as the paternal soil of their ancestors.

The above sketch of the nature and objects of this immense work, which has occupied the attention of the Author for upwards of 40 years, was found among his papers, and is now given to the public in his own words. Since that period, a few chapters, have been added by the Reverend SAMUEL BRANKFORD SMITH, which brings it down to the close of the last war.

The publication commences with a third impression of the History of the U.
States, in three volumes, which is all that has ever appeared. The whole will not be delivered under 15 or 20 months. It is proper to state, that the gentlemen who have the direction of it are neither bookellers nor printers, and receive no pecuniary consideration for their trouble —but are willing to make the necessary advances to carry it into execution provided the sale is warranted by public patronage. The profits arising are to be appropriated for the support and education of his children, four of each sex: to them its success is a matter of deep importance.

SATURDAY, MAY 2, 1818.

Mr. SNOWDEN,
I perfectly agree with the critique on "the eloquence of Phillips," which occupied your columns lately.

That barister most undoubtedly possesses talents; but there is an exuberance of fancy—a meretricious decking which belongs not to the chasteness of oratory.
It is eloquence run to seed.

If the writer of the remarks on Phillip's style will take the trouble to revert to a file of the National Intelligencer, in the latter end of 1815, or early in 1816, he will there discover a critique on a speech of Mr. P. in a case of crim. con. which is more acute and precise than even the keenness of Mr. Jeffrey's pen—the leading writer in the Edinburgh Review.

Who the author was I know not; but I was so forcibly impressed with the correctness of the remarks on that speech, (which was published, puffed and praised by numerous editors in the United States) that I carried it with me to England, and showed it to a literary friend, the editor of a very respectable gazette, who inserted it as from the National Intelligencer; and the perusal of which may have quickened Mr. Jeffrey's remarks in the Edinburgh Review referred to by your correspondent.

From the Franklin Gazette.

THE VENERABLE SQUAD

The act of congress for the relief of soldiers of the revolution, is of a singular character and effect. That class of people had seemed to have retired from the world. This age had not seen them at all; the last had scarcely seen them, or but seen them to bid them a final adieu.
The lanes and back streets of our towns, or the sequestered vales of our country.
It is true, were sometimes said to be favored with here and there a solitary one.
But like witches or ghosts, they were of-tenter heard and talked of, than seen—"New lords and new laws," rose up one upon the heels of another, but neither the deeds of the first, nor the effects of the last reached them. They seemed like extraneous of the body politic, which remained cold, inactive, palsied, dead. Medicine after medicine might be administered to the vital parts, but the extremities remained useless and comfortless, and in a measure lifeless. But the vivifying act in question, was no sooner passed, than its effects seemed to thrill through every vein and nerve of the body politic, and these old stumps and broken bones, and frigid nerves, and fleshless sinews, began to move, and live, and grow. Here and there you could see them tottering in second childhood, with their old brows half relaxed from wrinkles, inquiring for those who would aid them in procuring their country's bounty. Like infancy, they seemed instinctively to know there was nourishment at the breast, but were too helpless to reach it. They seemed to come forth in numbers not before supposed to exist, and indeed it was gladdening to see so many venerable heroes yet in being. We look upon them as we would upon the sword, with which our forefathers bedewed their way to glory; the instruments with which our country's liberty was achieved. But these remarks may as well give place to the muster roll of sergeant Thomas's squad. It contains the names of those who made application through the writer of this article for the relief provided by the act.

Total years of age 967 Averaging 69 years of age each! It is to be questioned whether any sergeant in christendom, could produce such a command as this under-sergeant Thomas.
Old, shrivelled, needy, bowed down, shivering under the frost of seventy winters! Yet cheerful, and ready to "shun-der the crotch and show how fields were won."

Joel Gray—He may indeed be addressed in the style of the old ballad, and make the same response:

"O why do you shiver and shake, Guf-fer Gray?
"And why does your nose look so blue?"

"I am grown very old,
"And the weather 'tis cold,
"And my doublet is not very new."

Thomas Randolph—Better known here as "Old Tommy Randals" the standing bug-bear of childhood, and likely to rival the most celebrated "Boog-a-boos" of any past age. We sincerely hope his swoon notes of "sweep O," "sweep O," will be soon exchanged for more cheerful ones. Indeed he has scarcely a note of any kind left, as he is now the tenant of the poor house, having been sometime ago gathered to that promiscuous congregation of fatherless, motherless, sisterless, brotherless, houseless and friendless beings, each of whom, is little less, than ex-cipient mortals.

Michael Ely—This old winter beaten and war-worn veteran, during the battle of Germantown, observed a cannon ball approaching his squad, bounding on the ground from place to place, threatening the legs of his command with sudden destruction. With admirable presence of mind he wheeled his men on the right and left, to make a vacancy for it to pass, and wheeled into his place in the line again, with great regularity and composure.
"Right, corporal Ely," said his officer, "always make way for gentlemen whose business requires such despatch."

Joseph Wren—This old man's body and spirit seem to be equally light. He travels his 50 miles a day with ease. His appearance reminds you of the Egyptian mummies, so celebrated for their fresh and life-like appearance after the lapse of centuries. During the deluge (not Noah's flood nor yet Deucalion's, as you might have supposed from his ancient date but the deluge, which buried a third part of our town in ruins, on the ever memorable 9th Aug. 1817,) old J. Wren, like the lively bird of his own name, perched himself in a snug corner of the garret of a two-story frame house and went to sleep.
The house rose on the bosom of the deep, plunged all but the garret into the waves and was dashed from surge to surge, till it lodged against a tree. Five persons were drowned! "side by side they lay," in a room of the second story of the house.
Joseph slept on. At length when the God of Nature held out the olive branch of hope to the terror struck tenants of the roofs of the tottering houses and the flood subsided so that the "dry land appeared"—when the mighty ocean that had been, as it were, created in a moment and precipitated upon us gathering itself into the mild and unassuming Codrus again, Joseph's abode of death, where youth and health and female excellence and manly virtue, had been buried in the waves, was visible; and still he slept.
When he was awakened he rubbed his eyes, not certain they were his own, nor whether he was Joseph Wren any more;
for he knew not where he was, unless it might be in some place on the other side of the grave. Thus indeed, has Joseph Wren had "hair breadth escapes" in the "forest and city full," and is spared to be made glad by something very unlike the "lag attitude of Republics."

What a spectacle is sergeant Thomas's venerable, honorable and ancient squad!
Their history is all eventful. Poor, old, lame, blind, deaf and forgetful! They never look'd to see this day. They have been banded about from pillar to post, often without a home, or stated place of residence. "Almost every one has lost his discharge and most of them, in the language of William Mulph's petitions have no evidence but their own words, their age, their poverty and their scars, of having faithfully served their country and of being in need of its support."

THE SOLDIER'S FRIEND.

"So true is it that they, many of them, have no home, that on being asked where they reside, they often reply with a melancholy smile at the oddity of the thing, "almost any where."

TREATMENT OF CONSUMPTION.

There is some reason for thinking prussic acid, though it be the most active of poisons, may when properly diluted, be used with success in pulmonary complaints. Six drops of Scheele's acid, diluted with three ounces of water, or vegitable infusion, given in doses of a spoonful every two hours, has effectually quiet-ed very severe coughs. From a number of experiments made by Dr. Magendie of Paris, he thinks himself warranted in concluding "that the prussic acid, given in small doses, mixed with a certain quantity of water, may be advantageously employed as a palliative treatment of the consumption, with a view of calming the cough, facilitating the expectoration, and promoting sleep; and that as such, it must be considered as the first among the substances usually employed for similar purpose; as it does not seem to excite like the opiate's, any colliquative sweat."

The following points appear to Dr. Ma-gendie to be already ascertained:—1st That the pure prussic acid is a substance eminently deleterious and altogether unfit to be used as a medicine. 2dly, That the prussic acid diluted with water is beneficial in cases of chronic and nervous cough. 3dly, That this same acid may be useful in the palliative treatment physis, by diminishing the intensity and frequency of the cough, and in procuring sleep, &c. 4thly, That there is reason to hope that this same substance may become advantageous, as a curative treatment of pulmonary phthisis, particularly when in an incipient state.

ALEXANDRIA:
SATURDAY, JULY 2, 1818.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT, By and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

William T. Swann, Francis Peyton, Newton Keene, Nathaniel Wise, and Jacob Morgan, Justices of the Peace for the county of Alexandria, in the District of Columbia.

ANTICIPATED.

The editors of the N. York Gazette thank the gentleman who forwarded the subsequent information:

New Haven, April 28.

Arrived brig Argos, Hunt, St. Croix, 18, rum, to F. Hunt & Sons; Greyhound, Hoadley, Lagaira, 26, coffee, to Kartha-us, Reinicke & Co. and vessel to Kidson & Bishop, having left no vessels. Below, brig Trumbull, Falls, Martinique, 22.

The Greyhound sailed 5 days after the Jacquemet Packet arrived at this port—and from a gentleman passenger, who has resided at Lagaira several months, the following particulars are obtained:

Our informant sailed on the 30th ult. on the morning of which day news was received from the armies of a battle having been fought between the Spanish forces under general La Torre and the Patriots under Bolivar, in which the latter were victorious—the Spaniards having suffered much, and retreated towards Caracas. No official statement of the action was given—the government, and individuals attached to the Spanish cause, endeavoring to suppress all unfavorable reports; yet it was the general opinion of impartial men that it was of a serious nature, and another embargo was momentarily expected in consequence of it.

Confidence in the existing government, both in Caracas and Lagaira, was daily declining, and little or no commercial business doing. In the previous severe actions fought at Calaboso, Sambrasso, &c. both parties suffered considerably, each advancing and retreating occasionally. General Morillo was severely wounded in that of Sambrasso, and in consequence had retired from the immediate command of the army. He was on the recovery, It was also stated that Bolivar was wounded by a musket ball.

The Spaniards, in the former actions had invariably claimed the victory; yet the Patriots remain in possession of Calaboso and St. Fernando, two very important posts, particularly the latter, situate on the river Apura, falling into the Oronoko, which gives them the command of the extensive plains and fine provinces of Varenas; as also the open country in the rear of Caracas, and enables them to cut off the supplies of Morillo's forces from the interior.

It was rumored in private circles a few days previous to the sailing of the Greyhound, that Bolivar had been reinforced from the Oronoko with some English forces, stated to amount to eleven hundred men, with four pieces of artillery; should this prove true, it is the opinion of our informant, that in the present state of the respective forces, it would very soon decide the fate of the province in favor of the Patriots. In the event of the Spanish army being entirely defeated, Caracas and Lagaira could not be defended. It was the intention of the Spanish forces to fall back on and occupy Porto Cavello, which, from its local situation, is admirably calculated for defence, both by land and sea. They were placing it in the best possible state, having embarked considerable ordnance and munition from Lagaira, for that purpose. The Spanish marine force being much superior to any the Patriots can bring against them: they can not only keep open the harbor, but occasionally blockade Lagaira, should it fall into the hands of the Patriots.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Corbin Braxton, of Richmond, dated
"New Orleans, April 5.

"On the 4th of March our vessel (the schooner Caroline, Capt. Seymour, from Norfolk) was cast away on a most dreadful reef of rocks, called the Fish Keys Abaco, about 100 miles from the island of Providence. At nine o'clock at night, going at eight or nine miles an hour, she struck, and in less than two hours she was completely dashed to pieces, so that all who remained on the wreck at the time had to fly to the forecast of the vessel as our last resort. Fortunately, I was among the first. We had not remained long in this situation before the wreck went completely over, and we were let down into the water waist deep —in which situation we continued with the sea rolling over us from 12 o'clock at night till nearly 12 the next day. Only two of my negroes survived the night.— They were swept off one by one.—They cried to me for help, but I could not help them. The captain and most of the crew got into the boat after the vessel was nearly beat to pieces, intending by means of a long rope to keep her out of the way of the wreck, and of the surf around us; but the rope breaking, they were compelled to make for the shore three miles distant—a small barren and uninhabited island. The next morning when they were coming to our relief, they discovered a small vessel called a wrecker, turning the island they had just left; they immediately made for her, to get assistance to save whatever persons might remain on the wreck, though the captain had despaired of finding any of us alive.

We had concluded that he and all his crew had perished in the boat—but fortunately he guided the vessel, and dispatched a boat for us. When she got to us, there were only nine left out of thirty-five. The mate of the vessel, two Italian passengers, and 25 negroes were lost. One poor man was picked up swimming, two hours after we had left the wreck. From that place we were carried to Nassau, where we staid two days, and sailed for this place, where we arrived last evening."

THE CROPS.

We have seen a letter from May River, S. C. (says the Savannah Republican of April 21) dated April 20, to a gentleman in this city, which states that, "The frost of last night (Sunday night last, has been a dreadful scourge to the cotton planters in this part of South Carolina.— As far as the Bohaw I have heard that it has been equally fatal there—this evening I have had three applications for cotton seed—I am one of those who have suffered—41 acres of Cotton of mine was putting out the third leaf yesterday, was fair and promising—to-day withered and blighted to its roots. I understand from a gentleman who resides near Coosawhat-chie, that all the cotton in the neighborhood is killed, and that in the vicinity of Bohaw the inhabitants were visited with a most severe hail storm, on Friday night last. The hail was 4 inches in circumference—That three of them filled a half pint tumbler—that whenever they struck the Pride of India tree, the bark was torn off. Cotton seed will be in great demand no question." We dread to hear from the interior of the country, for we fear the frost has done great injury, as vegetation was far advanced.

ANOTHER NEW MONSTER.

To Dr. Mitchell, of this city, the editors of the Gazette are indebted for a copy of the following letter, addressed to him by James Crawford, Esq.

Prairie des Chien, Nov 25, 1817.
Sir—Understanding that you entertain a strong predilection for natural curiosities, I, at the particular request of a friend personally known to you, transmit you the subjoined relation, which you are at liberty to make use of as you may deem consistent.

Returning late last fall from the Indian Hunting Ground, situated near the mouth of the river St. Peters, I had occasion to go ashore at a particular rock, which forms the cave noticed in the Journal of the late Mr. Carver, with two of my hunters, when our attention was attracted by a noise, somewhat resembling the bellow-ing of a buffalo at a distance. We immediately proceeded in search of the object, and on arriving at the mouth of the cave, encountered a serpent of a most prodigious appearance, probably fifteen feet in length, and proportionable in thickness, with four short legs, somewhat resembling the alligator. His head was disproportionally large, with glossy eyes situated towards the back of the head.—
The back was of a shining black covered with strong and apparently impenetrable scales. The belly was variegated with different colors. Its tail on perceiving us was coiled over the back, except when it beat the ground, which was always accompanied by the bellowing which first attracted us. It may be inquired why we did not fire on it, which can be most easily defined by imagining the indescribable agitation which the menacing attitude of such an extraordinary creature would excite. The whole party stood with their muskets cocked, transfixed with terror, till it quietly glided into the recesses of the cave. But be assured,

Sir, that we have not abandoned the idea of obtaining it in the ensuing spring, as party is already formed for the purpose, who are determined to brave every danger to gratify their curiosity respecting this wonderful creature; and should we succeed, you may depend on receiving a satisfactory delineation, as well as a faithful detail of the circumstances attending the expedition.

I am, sir, with respect, your obedt servant, JAMES CRAWFORD.

At his residence in Fairfax county, Va. on the 27th day of April, in the 84th year of his age, WILLIAM B. SEARS, a native of England. Mr. Sears, a son of the oppression of his own country, visited the United States, and contributed by his efforts as well as by his astonishing mechanical talents, to the independence of the country, and that character it so justly deserves, for being a century in advance of Europe in the mechanical arts. Mr. Sears lived for a considerable time in the family of Col. George Mason, of Gunston, who ever spoke of him in terms of the highest respect, and his good name is yet upheld by his decendants. Mr. Sears has reared and well educated a large family of children, who will transmit their father's fair fame to posterity. Peace be to the manes of these men, who, leaving the oppressions of feudal Europe, have planted scions in this land of liberty, where every man can sit under the shadow of his own vine and fig tree and can say there is none to hurt us.

Port Spain, April 4.

On the 18th ultimo we inserted an account of the Royalists on the Spanish Main having gained a complete victory over the Independents, and which we then thought was correct: by the arrival of the sch. Virginia, from Augustura, accounts of a very different nature have been received, but in our opinion they are much exaggerated—it is said there had been two engagements, and that General Morillo's army was completely defeated, with the loss of eight hundred men, while that of the independents was only eighty —this disparity induces us to doubt the authenticity of the accounts: it adds that General Morillo's troops were completely dispersed and that Bolivar was marching to Caracas.

two others of the crew left the vessel in about $1700. The Matchless is the prop-former place. On the afternoon of the 3d or 4th inst Capt. T. being ashore at Lagaira, the mate, having previously concerted a plan with the two seamen above mentioned, slipped the cable, proceeded to sea, and arrived in Hampton-Roads who arrived in the M. and with the mate groes, constituted the crew of the sch.

Jones says he is a native of Philadelphia.

Splendid Declaration of Independence.

JUST published and for sale by BEN. J. O. TYLER, a splendid copy of this important state paper, with fac similis of all the signatures of those sages who declared us free, and pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to support it. The publisher copied it himself from the original in the Department of State. This is the first and only copy of the fac simile of that invaluable document ever taken or published, after being on record more than 40 years.

CERTIFICATE.

"Department of State, Sep. 10, '17.
"The foregoing copy of the Declaration of Independence has been collated with the original instrument, and found correct. I have myself examined the signatures to each. Those executed by Mr. Tyler are curiously exact imitations, so much so, that it would be difficult, if not impossible, for the keenest scrutiny to distinguish them, were it not for the hand of time, from the originals.

RICHARD RUSH."

PATRONS.

Among the publisher's numerous patrons, are the president, vice-president, all the heads of departments, and many members of congress. At the head of the list stands the venerable Thomas Jefferson, from whom I have received a very polite letter, highly approving my publication.

This grand national work will be printed as fast as subscribed for, at 25 per copy. The publisher and engraver are natives and the materials are all American; he therefore hopes to receive that patronage which the subject so richly merits. A prospectus and a sample is left at the reading room, market, Alexandria. A liberal discount will be made to those who will purchase to sell again.

James Kennedy & Son, RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges, Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known. Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebr or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina or short fat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and foetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number who in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended.

Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS. THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the doctor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances. Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir, A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.
